Key qualifications

Worked several years for the Dutch Province of South Holland as project leader for large projects, such as the 'Expansion of the seacoast between Schevingen and Hook van Holland', 'Parkcity between Parliament and Port (The Hague-Rotterdam)', the 'Randstadvision 2020', Agricultural vision Randstad, Mobility plan Randstad etc. Worked for eight years as a strategic planner and (vice) head of the provincial Randstaddepartment and as projectleader for several governance projects in the area. Worked from 1998-2002 as a senior project-leader for large infrastructure projects (such as the High Speed Train lines) on behalf of the Dutch consultancy firm Holland Railconsult (at the moment Movares). Was lead applicant for several EU projects of INTERREG IIIC, Since 2001 acting manager of Urban Unlimited, consultancy in urban development and town and country planning in the network society. From 2004-2012 extraordinary professor in Networkplanning, Governance and Space at the University of Utrecht on behalf of the ministry of VROM. Since 2012 (full) professor of Spatial Planning and Mobility of the Centre for Mobility and Spatial Planning at the University of Ghent.

Luuk Boelens is opinion leader and author of various books and articles regarding the actor relational approach of (urban) planning, governance and design. He has been member of several major juries on spatial planning, such as 'Het aanzien van Nederland' and the 'Maaskantprijs'. He is and had been editor of several urban design and planning journals, such as Oase, Archis, S&RO, Ruimte etc. He reviews for several international journals such as European Planning Studies, Planningtheory, Planningtheory and Practice, Urban Studies etc. He chairs academic review boards for VLIR/VLOHRA. He is member of AESOP and organises its year congress for 2014 in Utrecht. His recent research focuses on the institutional rearrangements, co-evolution in decision-making and adaptive governance in especially the Eurodelta of Rhine, Meus and Scheldt, based on actor-network theories, poststructural geographies and common pool resource management. In these contexts two researchers obtained a PhD under his lead and six doctoral dissertations are in progress.
